Every year, the World Bank ' s World Development Report (WDR) features a topic of central importance to global development. The 2018 WDR—LEARNING to Realize Education ' s Promise—is the first ever devoted entirely to education. And the time is right:

Access Free Applied Economics Deped

education has long been critical to human welfare, but it is even more so in a time of rapid economic and social change. The best way to equip children and youth for the future is to make their learning the center of all efforts to promote education. The 2018 WDR

Access Free Applied Economics Deped

explores four main themes: First, education ' s promise: education is a powerful instrument for eradicating poverty and promoting shared prosperity, but fulfilling its potential requires better policies—both within and outside the education system. Second, the need to shine a light on learning: despite gains in access to education, recent learning assessments reveal that many young people around the world, especially those who are poor or marginalized, are leaving school unequipped with even the management has identified interventions that promote learning by ensuring that learners are prepared, teachers are both skilled and motivated, and other inputs support the teacher-learner relationship. Fourth, how to make systems work for learning:

Access Free Applied Economics Deped

achieving learning throughout an education system requires more than just scaling up effective interventions. Countries must also overcome technical and political barriers by deploying salient metrics for mobilizing actors and tracking progress, building
