Seneca's On the Shortness of Life - Massimo Pigliucci
On The Shortness of Life - Lucius Seneca The majority of mortals, Paulinus, complain bitterly of the spitefulness of Nature, because we are born for a brief span of life, because even this space that has been granted to us rushes by so speedily and so swiftly that all save a very few find life at an end just when they are getting ready to live.

On The Shortness of Life - Lucius Seneca
The Roman philosopher Seneca said it well in a letter to Paulinus: It is not that we have a short space of time, but that we waste much of it. Life is long enough, and it has been given in sufficiently generous measure to allow the accomplishment of the very greatest things if the whole of it is well invested.

Seneca on The Shortness of Time - Farnam Street
On the Shortness of Life LUCIUS ANNAEUS SENECA TRANSLATED BY GARETH D. WILLIAMS (I:) Most of mankind, Paulinus, complains about nature's meanness, because our allotted span of life is so short, and because this stretch of time that is given to us runs its course so quickly, so rapidly — so much so that, with very few exceptions, life leaves the rest of us in the lurch just when we re getting ready to live.
