What is Technical Writing? [Technical Writing For Beginners]
As a freelance technical writer, my job is to turn complex subject matter into simple, accessible content. Most copywriters produce beautiful, creative prose that helps sell a product or service. They dream up snappy headlines and killer copy, all the while pushing as many emotional buttons as they can. They stride into battle on behalf of their clients, convincing readers that their boots are the blingiest, that their chairs are the comfiest, and that their yoghurt is the yummiest.
